Stolen Cigarettes Are Found in Merion on Railroad Bank

Recover 150 Cartons in Cache
Near Bowman Avenue
Monday

ROB BALA DELICATESSEN

The cigarettes stolen from Davis store last week were recovered Monday afternoon.

The three missing cases were discovered when a workman on the estate of Percy L. Neel, Bowman avenue, Merion, became suspicious of the actions of several youths probing under the weeds on the nearby railroad bank.

The workman, Jack Curran, of Iona avenue, Narberth, went over to investigate, and found Davis' name stenciled on one of the cases. Knowing of the robbery, he immediately notified Eugene H. Davis, manager of the store, who hurried to the scene.

In the interim the other men had fled, and two of the cases were recovered. The third eluded the searchers until evening, when Lower Merion Police with flashlights turned it up. It is thought the men found at the cases were confederates of the thieves and had been tipped off as to the location of the cache.

The three cases, containing 50 cartons each, and valued at nearly $200, had been exposed to showers over the week-end, but the heavy packing boxes had preserved the contents from damage.

Three youths were picked up by Philadelphia police last Thursday and accused of the theft. They are Frank Mazie, 18; Matthew Abramsky, 18; and Edward Gajtkowski, 16, all of Philadelphia. When arrested, police say, their pockets were filled with fountain pens and watches later identified by Howard E. Davis, proprietor.

Campers See Sights of New York Tuesday as Part

BY STEVE SCHOFF

The Rangers' farewell week included a movie party on Wednesday night at Danceland on Crescent Lake. "Souls at Sea" was the feature attraction. The final baseball game of the season was played with Long Lake Lodge on the home grounds the same afternoon. Joe Clausen pitched a winner for the Rangers, 6 to 2. In the finals of camp competition for medals, Bob Warwick, of Wayne, won the senior tennis, Richard Custer, of Narberth, the junior, and Dan Karcher and Berwyn MacFadden took the honors in the swimming events.

Paul Hicks, of Merion, garnered in the most honors, winning medals in six activities.

The highest honor of all went to two boys from the Main Line and one from Massachusetts. Honor Camper in the Midget division went to Phil Carr, of Marblehead, Mass. Senior balloting showed Robert Rowley, of Narberth, as the winner in his division.

The Farewell Banquet was held in the Main Dining Room Saturday night, where 116 tenderloin steaks went the way of all flesh. Corn on the cob, mashed potatoes, string beans, apple pie and ice cream and fruit cup were added starters, but not in that order. Even the cigars were present when some of the more sturdy counselors blossomed out with their favorite brands, mostly five centers. Medals, cups and plaques were presented to the boys, including Red Cross life saving emblems to 25 members of camp and over 150 National

Lieutenant Foltz Drowned in C.C.C. Camp Rescue Act

Husband of Narberth Girl Gives Life to Save Worker in Raging Stream

WAS IN CHARGE OF CAMP

Funeral services were held Monday for Jonathan Clinton Foltz, of 103 South Narberth avenue, Narberth, who gave his life last Thursday to save that of another.

Foltz, who was 30 years old, was the husband of the former Louise Jones, daughter of Mrs. William J. Jones, of the South Narberth avenue address. He was the father of an 18-months-old daughter.

The young man, with the rank of lieutenant, was commander of C. C. C. Camp 155 near Wellsboro. Last Thursday, during the floods resulting from heavy rains upstate, Foltz leaped into the raging waters of Kelsey Creek to rescue George Kolt, one of the boys under his command.

By the use of an inner tube he aided the other camper to a point of safety, but was exhausted by the effort and swept down stream. His body was found the following day by a crew from the camp.

The tragedy occurred when a group of boys, accompanied by Foltz, were crossing a bridge which had been weakened by the flood. In water up to their knees, Kolt suddenly lost his footing and was thrown into the raging torrent. In rescuing him, Foltz was drowned.

The young man's death was the third tragedy to strike the household in the past few years. In 1935 W. W. Deacon, husband of the former Helen Jones, was stricken and died at Overbrook Station. In July of this year Thomas Wright Jackson, Jr., 31, husband of another sister, Elizabeth, died suddenly of sunstroke during a heat wave.

Success of Merchants' Clinic Meeting Assured

A successful preliminary meeting for the Main Line merchants' clinic, called for September 13 at the Merion Cricket Club, is assured by the widespread response to the first announcement.

An announcement by Ralph S. Dunne, one of the prime movers in the plan, at the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday, showed that 131 tickets for the first meeting had been sold at that time, and new acceptances were coming in daily.

The purpose of the meeting is to plan a later series of five clinics, starting October 4, to be conducted by Arthur Freeman, New York sales consultant, who will address the preliminary meeting.

Mr. Dunne feels that an attendance of at least 175 is assured for the September 13 meeting.

Rotarians Learn Insulation

Bryn Mawr Hospital Uses Modern Physical Therapy Methods for Cures

Did you ever take a shower bath to cure an ailment? Or lie prone and let light you cannot see soak into an aching back?

These are two of the curative methods used in Bryn Mawr Hospital's new Physical Therapy Department.

The water cure, of course, is in the hydro-therapy section where the huge tub, arm, leg and foot tubs and sweat box are located.

More popular, however, is the lamp and massage section containing the infra-red, ultra-violet and other lamps. Here an average of thirty persons a day are treated by the hospital technicians.

According to Dr. Henry Kehres, chief resident at the hospital, each of the lamps, baths and machines has highly specialized uses. The heat lamps, for instance, are used on surface ailments such as ulcers, the infra-red to penetrate beneath the skin.

Others, such as the diathermy machine, shoot an electrical current of such high frequency through the patient that there is no sensation experienced. However, resistance provided by the flesh and bone causes heat to be produced and healing is started.

"Physical therapy," according to Dr. Kehres, "is the art of healing by mechanical means."

"Thus, when we play heat from a lamp—infra-red or ultra-violet—on a patient, circulation is stimulated and activity of the bloodstream is increased."

"Instead of waiting months for nature to do the job if she is able, the patient is cured within weeks or perhaps even days."

Sea Scouts to Sail on Mystery Cruise

Delmont Jack Tars to Leave
Base Under Sealed Orders
This Saturday

Memories of the popular "Cruises to No-where" were revived this week with the announcement that the Delmont Sea Scouts will set sail at six bells from the Delmont Sea Scout base at Rancocas River, New Jersey.

Sailing under sealed orders with destination unknown, the Sea Scouts will leave the base at 3 P. M., to return to the starting point not later than 5 P. M., E. D. S. T., Monday.

Under the direction of Roy F. Seymour, Council Sea Scout committeeman, and Chester L. Nelson, assistant scout executive of the Valley Forge Council, the boys will sail and swim during the cruise.

Other nautical activities will include fleet movements, shore leaves to nautical points of interest, navigation, seamanship, boat races and contests and other Sea Scout projects.

This Fleet Cruise is the fourth major activity of the Delmont Sea Scouts for the season.

Sea Scouts, officers, ship committeemen, Sea Scouts committeemen, commissioners and executives of the Delaware and Montgomery County Councils, have been invited to participate.

Rod and Gun Outing

The annual fall outing of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, Inc., will be held at Ridgeway Farms, Bethayres, on September 18.

Gladwyne and Paoli Charge Ineligibility

Walt Masters Hurls Perfect
Game for Narberth
Saturday

Charley Spellman, Paoli's manager, has protested that Coatesville used ineligible players whose names did not appear on the list. As Coatesville is just a half game behind Paoli, a decision on the protest will have a bearing on the fourth and last playoff team.

Paoli, in fourth place, won one and lost one over the week-end, while Coatesville, fifth place holder, lost one and won two—one of which was over Paoli.

The other protest was made by Gladwyne, who also charged the use of ineligible players by Upper Darby. Gladwyne was beaten by Upper Darby on Saturday, 4 to 2.

With three wins to their credit over Saturday and Sunday, Brookline moved into second place position, a half game ahead of Gladwyne. They sank Media, 1 to 0, Pottstown, 7 to 2 and Downingtown, 3 to 2.

In the Coatesville-Narberth fracas, Walt Masters pitched a no-hit, no-run game, the fifth such feat in the league's history. Masters fanned seven and passed three, also contributing two safe hits of his own. Coatesville was downed, 6 to 0.

This week's schedule is as follows: Saturday, Stonehurst Hills at Narberth; Sunday, Bristol at Narberth; Monday, the wind up of league games—Paoli at 10.15 A. M. and Brookline at 3.15 P. M., both on the Narberth diamond.

The ball club wishes to extend their thanks for the support given them this season. With the end of both twilight and league games this week-end, they will next do battle for the Main Line crown.

Sectional Leaders Use Prothonotary Fight as Test of Strength

Campaign for Row Office Resolves
Into Battle Among
Politicians Seeking Power

MANY ENDORSE BECHTEL

The rank and file of Republican voters in Montgomery County continued to watch with little interest the contest among various aspiring sectional leaders for power.

The campaign—a strictly professional one, centers around the candidacy of four men for prothonotary. It has resulted in a battle to sign up district leaders.

The past week found several workers plumping for the cause of Earl B. Bechtel, of Pottstown. Included were Squire Franklin P. Kromer, of Cynwyd, Samuel McConnell, of Penn Wynne, Nancy Highley, of Norristown, and County Controller William C. Irvin.

Walter A. Wilson, of Norristown, still retains his position as chosen candidate of the Harmony Committee, which endorsed him for the post at a meeting last month attended by thirteen leaders of various sections. Efforts have been made to secure the withdrawal of Wilson or Bechtel in the interest of peace.

A prominent figure in Republican State politics, watching the intense fight for a comparatively unimportant issue commented this week: "The job of prothonotary is not the issue. It is the preliminary skirmishing for leadership in the important campaign of next year. It is purely and simply a professional politicians' party."

Albert G. Weidensaul Author of Pageant

Well-Known Cynwyd Resident
Will Present Original Work
Saturday in Delaware

Albert George Weidensaul, of 317 Cynwyd road, Cynwyd, has written a pageant which will be presented for the first time Monday night at 8.30 at the DuPont Gardens, Longwood, De. The performance, which will be directed by Mr. Weidensaul, will be repeated Tuesday night.

The production, entitled "The Light Bearers," is historical in nature and is being produced in commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the landing of the Chandler Family in America.

The dramatic spectacle closely follows the outstanding events in the lives of those colorful pioneers, John, George and Jane Chandler, the settlers who came from England to the province of Pennsylvania in 1687 at the special request of William Penn and settled on the land now owned by the DuPonts. Over 100 descendants will enact the parts of their forbears in the pageant.

Mr. Weidensaul is a member of the English Department of the Upper Darby Junior High School and director of the music at the Fletcher Memorial Church, 54th and Master streets, Philadelphia. He is a former officer in the Bala-Cynwyd Choral and has appeared in leading roles in a number of its productions.

Durnin, Democratic Leader, Severs All Political Connections

Resignation From Local and County Committees Comes as Surprise Move

In a surprise action, John T. Durnin, of Overbrook Hills, prominent Main Line and Montgomery County Democratic leader, severed himself from all political connections last Friday.

He was chairman of the Lower Merion Township and Borough of Narberth Democratic Committee, vice-chairman of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee and a member of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Members of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee, meeting Monday night at Merion Mansions, Merion, voted not to accept the resignation and named a committee to confer with him.

It was brought out at the meeting that Durnin's resignation was prompted because of a disagreement with members of the Montgomery County Executive Committee over appointments in the Main Line section.

He is said to have resigned in protest against their methods of handling patronage.

Joseph Golden, Bala committeeman, presided at Monday's meeting which was attended by thirty-five members. The committee named to confer with Durnin includes Mrs. Florence Dougherty, of Cynwyd, Mrs. Mildred Thompson, of Merion, Frank McGurk, of Penn Wynne, and Charles DiPhillips, of Ardmore.

Durnin, in a statement made Wednesday, insists that his resignation is final. He expects to make a statement in a few days giving the reasons for his step.

Hedgerow Preparing Premiere of 'Bystander'

Brennan's Play of English Prison Life Will Open September 14

The Hedgerow Theatre again thrusts a formidable head into a theatrical season that is fast readying itself for inspection by Philadelphia's footlight folk.

At the moment Jasper Deeter and his acting group are hard in preparation for their American premiere on September 14 of Robert Brennan's play of English prison life, "Bystander." The play, although new to this side of the Atlantic, first saw the light of day at the Abbey Theatre in 1930, where its success was so tremendous that it was revived the fall of that same year.

Hedgerow's current schedule reads as follows: Tonight, Jean Ferguson Black's "Penny Wise"; Saturday, Shaw's "Arms and the Man." Monday, Labor Day, Shaw's delightful "Candida"; Tuesday, repeat of "Penny Wise"; Wednesday, Andre Obey's Biblical fantasy, "Noah"; Thursday, Glaspell's "Inheritors" (sold out); Friday, Shaw's comedy, "You Never Can Tell."

During the vacation season travelers are often heard to remark about the quality of the drinking water in the community in which they are temporarily making their home. ## "The Emperor's Candlesticks" Now Playing at Narberth

The film version of the Baroness Orczy spy melodrama, "The Emperor's Candlesticks" will be shown at the local theatre this week-end. The two leading players, Luise Rainer and William Powell, rival for an important pair of candlesticks, but later fall in love. Heading the supporting cast are Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan, Robert Young and Henry Stephenson.

(Bonus Night) Monday brings "Sing and Be Happy," a delightful show involving two rival advertising men whose son and daughter, Anthony Martin and Leah Ray, are in love. The climax comes when they each present a radio program for Helen Westley, a prospective million dollar account, the best one to win the contract. Martin and Miss Ray together put over the program for her father, who agrees to share it with his former enemy, Martin's father.

"Hell Divers," the romance of aviation in the navy will be shown Tuesday. Co-starring Wallace Beery and Clark Gable, and filmed with the co-operation of the Navy, it contains nearly every thrill the service achieves in its annual training.

Wednesday (Cash Award Night) features "The Go-Getter," a comedy with Charles Winninger, Anita Louise and George Brent. Winninger's lovable portrayal of the familiar Cappy Ricks character is especially entertaining.

of the store, as part of the loot taken Wednesday night.

The boys at first denied any knowledge of the crime, one staring blankly at his questioners, but admitted the theft when faced with the evidence. They disclaimed, however, any knowledge of the missing cigarettes.

The boys are being held without bail for court. It is thought that they broke into the store, stuffed their pockets with small items, and then, each shouldering one of the large cases, walked down the railroad tracks to Merion, where the loot was cached. They then proceeded to Philadelphia, where the police picked them up.

The Bala-Cynwyd section added another to its long list of robberies early last Sunday morning, when William Okum, proprietor of a City Line delicatessen was robbed of $300 at the point of a gun.

Kidnaped and driven to his store with a pistol pressed to his head, Okum was forced to turn over $300 before being thrown from his car.
